Reference for Econstruct, Builders

In June 2003, Econstruct were appointed as builders for my family eco-compound project in Cottesloe. Comprising 4 separate buildings designed by Ecotect, Architects, using both traditional and cutting edge climate sensible design technology, the process has presented many challenges to the Econstruct building team. I appreciated their skills with detailed costing and computer modelled critical path analysis prior to commencement and their continued adherence to budget constraints as the buildings progressed and changes were needed from time to time.

Phil Crogan of Econstruct has provided excellent service as the project builder for the eco-compound throughout this past 18 months.

Econstruct have been thorough in all aspects of the building process. They manage their teams of sub-contractors well, they are on site every day and keep me informed and involved as much as I need to be. When problems have arisen I have been presented with workable solutions.

Working with Econstruct on this project has been an extremely rewarding and positive experience.
